Open House — Parkview's Preview

Open House this year brought many people to see the displays presented by each of the rotations and organizations. Many hopeful students toured the dorm, hospital, and display area. Refreshments were served in the recreation room. Much hard work is put into planning the displays to show what is involved in each area of nursing that is studied. Parkview is very proud of Open House, which is an annual event for prospective students and their parents.

1. First stop for the day is the registration table.
2. Guests enjoy their Parkview brownies and punch.
3. Karla Klinger plays the sick patient in a senior display on IV therapy.
4. Juniors explain their Emergency Room display.

1. Cast care is an important aspect in Orthopedic Nursing.
2. Juniors wait patiently in the office to take groups on tours of the hospital.
3. A simulated surgery is done by the juniors and the smelling salts are kept nearby!
4. Open House offers guests sites seen only in the hospital, such as the Circo-o-Electric bed.
5. The Pediatric display is a popular area for guests.

Parties, Raids . . . Big Sisses,

1. Big Sisses present their own version of the Florence Nightingale Pledge.
2. At the capping party, sisses gather around for food, skits, and fun.
3. Juniors award their little sisses with their cap hangers.
4. So these are the pointers the juniors give to the freshmen for appearance on the floor?
5. With the presentation of their caps, juniors dub their little sisses official Probies.
6. "Get your nose to the ground, Laurie Einstein, and show your respect?"
7. Juniors frighten the Probies as they subject them to their bedpan dessert.

Little Sisses Unite for Fun

FRESHMAN CAPPING SONG

All I want is my cap today
 Just so that I can say
 I am a freshman nurse.
 Oh, wouldn't it be lovely!
 Lots of bobby pins for me to buy,
 Lots of other things that I can try.
 No more Probie Caps for me.
 Oh, wouldn't it be lovely!
 No more lovely raids
 That we must get down on our knees.
 We won't have to do any of these,
 Not even if they say please.
 My own cap's restin' on my head,
 I think I'll take it with me to bed.
 Now I'm a student nurse.
 Oh, isn't it just lovely!
 Lovely, wonderful, lovely, ecstasy!

Purdue — Study, Study, Study

Purdue University is as familiar to a Parkview student as Parkview itself. Freshmen take courses in Anatomy and Physiology, Nutrition, Chemistry, Microbiology, and Pharmacology. Juniors take Psychology and Abnormal Psychology. Along with all those courses comes a lot of hours of study, knowledge, and late night hours.

1. Juniors Jim Dougal, Dave Warnecke, and Ray Raynor seem anxious for class to finally start at Purdue.
2. Deb DeLauro, Beth Zeltwanger, and Robin Woody dig right in in Biology lab.
3. Now Peg, you will find that test tube sooner or later.
4. A familiar sight - Kettler Hall at Purdue.
5. Cathy, you really shouldn't tell Dr. McKane how to run his lab.

Jr. Yardbirds Rake to Earn Money

On October 21, 1975, the rakes and plastic bags came out of storage for another workout with the Junior Yardbirds. President Linda Randall along with Susan Fields organized the event. The money earned from the annual project goes toward the Junior-Senior Banquet. The juniors, who worked two hours each, earned $311.41.

1. Are those juniors really working?
2. Juniors eagerly wait in line for instructions on what to do.
3. Stuff that bag girls!
4. Sally Wahl, put the leaves in, don't take them out!
5. The tired juniors take a rest.

A Parkview Halloween Is Full of

1. Ugly Doctor and Nurse Award went to the freshman class, portrayed by Lana Ewing and Craig Herr.
2. The "Seven Little Dwarfs" made their appearance.
3. "I was just leaving."
4. Seniors Hope Mains and Lee Meeks hobbled in as the old lady and man.

Spooks, Ghosts, Goblins, and Fun

Ghosts, goblins, Raggedy Andy and Ann, Scarecrows, tinmen, and old lady and man,

All appeared one Halloween night
Really creating quite a sight.

The judges judged with ease and skill
The contestants paraded around,
and then were still.

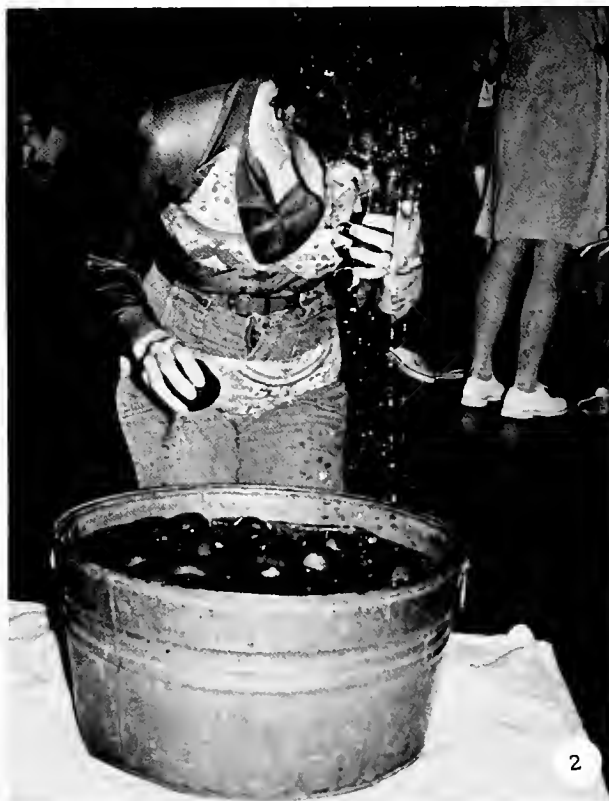

Prizes were awarded, faces were happy,
Concordia joined us, all was snappy.

Food was brought out,
people gathered 'round,

Soon music was started, the dance got off the ground.

Everyone had a good time, they thought it was fun,

Hope they were glad they decided to come.

1. Freshmen Laurie Einstein and Cathy
Peters appear as Raggedy Ann and Andy.
2. "I was just going to wash my hair when all of a sudden..."

Decorate Those Doors, Sing Those

Christmas brought many festivities this year beginning with the door decoration contest and carolling at Parkview and Veteran's Hospitals. At the annual party and dinner, seniors presented a skit on Christmas and the lonely patient. Santa stopped by with Atz's gift certificates for everyone.

Carols! Christmas Is on Its Way!

1. Santa gets a smooch from Miss Kolter.
2. Instructors and their families give the Christmas tree its final touch.
3. Down the halls, left and right, decorated doors are the sight!
4. Seniors are the first in line to fill their plates.
5. Christmas carolling was sponsored by NCF.
6. Santa, what would Christmas be without you?
7. Judy Fritsch gets ready to decorate her room.
8. Christmas cheer is brought to Nancy in full force!
9. The week before Christmas vacation is not the time to diet!

The Goal Is Reached . . . Capping

Scared, anxious, and eager - 75 Probies arrived at Parkview with the goal of becoming nurses. Each Probie's Big Sis set the pace for her with the 21 little nurse's caps they had made. As the long hours of studying in the library paid off, the little caps were torn down week by week. On January 16, 1976, 73 proud freshmen received their caps or stripes from Miss Kolter at the New Haven United Methodist Church. They had only just begun to achieve their dream. Nothing better describes the night of Capping then the Probie's own words, "We made it happen!"

The evening was concluded with a reception at English Hall. Being Miss Kolter's last year as Director of Nursing, the freshman class presented her with 28 red roses for her 28 years of service.

1. Feelings of accomplishment are expressed on the faces of Peggy Davis and Karen South.
2. The reception afterward provides time for reflecting and socializing.
3. As Debbie Klosterman is capped by Miss Kolter, her fellow classmates await their turn.
4. Lisa Wilkinson begins the clean up job left for the freshmen by their Big Sisses after the precapping party.
5. Newly capped Freshmen serenade Miss Kolter with their capping song.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet Highlights 1976

What's that one time of the year Parkview girls step out of their uniforms into long formals and guys get out of jeans into suits and ties?

What's the big event students spend two years raising money for? What's the occasion seniors like so well because they didn't have to put the work, headaches, and sweat into it? Any Parkview student nurse will tell you, it's the Junior-Senior Banquet!

This year's banquet, annually planned by the juniors in honor of the seniors, was held at the Black Rose Restaurant, Friday, April 23. "Walden," invited back from 1975, provided the music for the three hour dance.

What's that one thing the Juniors look forward to their senior year when they no longer have the work and headaches to worry over? You guessed it!

1. Jennifer Itt and her husband swing with the rhythm of "Walden" at the '76 Junior-Senior Banquet.

2. "Wish he'd ask me to dance!" "Wonder if she knows I can't dance?"

3. Candle light and soft music add to the romance in Michele and her fiancé.

Houseparents Listen; Offer Support

Six houseparents rotated shifts to provide twenty-four hour continuous companionship to almost two hundred student nurses. Included among their many duties were filling mailboxes, taking messages, and greeting students and visitors. The housemothers and father also spent much time listening to the students' joys as well as complaints. They served as mothers and a father away from home.

1. Miss Burns helps keep track of the dorm room keys.
2. "Mrs. Wiegman, I know you're tired, but must you drink so much coffee?"
3. Mrs. Davison tries a piece of the student nurses' birthday cake.

FRESH- MEN

What is a Parkview Freshman? A Parkview Freshman is someone who thinks he or she wants to be a nurse and who unwittingly and unknowingly enters a world of total confusion. A Parkview Freshman is one who moves into a dormitory to find unscrupulous Juniors and know-it-all Seniors. A Parkview Freshman is someone who enjoys raids, bedpans, and chocolate pudding. A Parkview Freshman is one who progresses from terror to blood pressures to baths to enemas to levins to CPR to dressings to catheters to shots. A Parkview Freshman is someone who sleeps through Nutrition, cries through Chemistry, studies through Biology, experiments through Micro, writes drug cards through Pharm, and charts through Nursing. A Parkview Freshman is someone who wants to quit 78 times during the year. A Parkview Freshman is one who proudly wears a crisp white cap or black stripe. A Parkview Freshman is someone who survives through quizzes, criticisms, and mistakes, while gaining confidence, knowledge, and pride.

A Parkview Freshman is endurance.

JUNIORS

Striping was over and then care plans began. Four rotations were filled with: to maintain, to promote, etc. -- fun? We will all remember jackets, mugs, leaves, and our "personal donations" which enabled us to enjoy the Junior-Senior banquet. Dinner and dancing were provided at the Black Rose Restaurant. Music was given by "Walden". With proud faces, we wore stripes and new pins were added to our glorious caps! Many original skits were performed by our own actresses to entertain the probies at our Big Sis, Little Sis parties. We felt fat and chubby after our Half Way party at which we ate gobs of ice cream. But, hurrah, we were half way through! After gaining confidence, skill, and the professional attitude, we decided to honor our beloved instructors with a Mystery Dinner which was returned with a Junior picnic. We have trod through another long year. A year we will always remember because of evaluations, tears, and dysentery. And in just one more year we will graduate!

SENIORS

Who put the duck
in the placenta pan?

Graduation day - a senior looks back and what does she see?

Moving in as a freshman with all those people she didn't know. Saying "hi" and trying to remember names. That awful 7:30 AM Micro class at Purdue. In fact all those awful classes at Purdue. And selling, selling, selling - candles, stationery, mugs.

Then that junior year that they said was so much easier. Arrhythmias, book long tests, care plans, case studies - that was easier? Nicer things happened too - being a Big Sis, hitting the halfway mark, being able to answer a freshman's questions, finally getting into real nursing.

Senior year - I never thought it'd get here. Parties at Atz's, a hayride, pizza, and the final fling - potluck and dance. Countdown to graduation on toilet paper. Having so much more time to goof off and still waiting 'til the last minute to study. Finally learning to be a leader.

"Graduation day, I can't believe it's here. You know, Parkview, I'll miss you - I never thought I would."

2. Dr. Jontz signs Donna Kime's uniform.
3. "It may be heavy, but I'm leaving."
4. Audrey Wenger adds the finishing touches to her sundae during the ice cream party at Mrs. Carlson's house.
5. Lynn Ruhl keeps in step at the seniors last dance.
6. Cathy Thiel and Phyllis Horne are ready to will their stuffed animals to another cuddly person.
7. "Did I have this much junk when I moved in here?"
8. "Have you had enough, Michele and Paula?"
9. Barb Ring receives Dr. Gumbert's autograph.
10. Deb Saylor anxiously rips up her uniform because she knows she gets to burn it next.
11. The senior instructors were surprised by some artistically talented seniors.
12. "I think Pat Widenhoefer is ready to graduate."
13. Paula Burk received the "Miss Healthy" award from her classmates.

April 30 was the date for the annual Alumni Banquet held at Zoli's Chalet in honor of the graduating class. The class flower decorated the tables and each senior was able to take one at the end of the banquet. A style show by Nobson's highlighted the evening.

The morning of graduation began with a chapel service followed by a breakfast for the almost graduates. The class presented special plaques to their instructors as a thank-you for their help and hard work.

Banquet, Breakfast, Luncheon

1. No one misses the opportunity of a free meal.
2. Zorina Baich, Di Pooler, and Londa Weaver enjoy a well-balanced breakfast.
3. Pat Widenhoefer is caught in the mood of the elegant Alumni Banquet.
4. Friends never seem to run out of conversation.
5. Becci Michels and Jennifer Ilt seem to be enjoying the evening.

Three long years of study was rapidly coming to an end: graduation was only a few hours away.

Graduation — Pride . . . Tears

1. Karen Richter receives her diploma from Mark Slen.

2. Award Recipients: Judy Certain, Marie Kolter Award; Laura Potter, Adena Carney Award; Karen Wagner, Psychiatric Nursing Award; Miss Kolter; Debra Follas, Emergency Room Award; and Reesa Zachrich, Alumni Award.

3. The procession into the church begins the graduation ceremony.

4. Miss Kolter gives Pam Timm the school pin.

On May 12, 1976, sixty-one young women became graduates of Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing. The ceremony took place at Saint Jude's Catholic Church with Marie Kolter presenting pins to her last graduating class and Mark Slen presenting diplomas. Awards were bestowed to two deserving new nurses. Judy Certain received the Marie Kolter Award for self-forgetfulness in the service of others and Reesa Zachrich was given the Alumni Award for Scholastic achievement. The new graduates chose to express their feelings by singing their class song, "I Believe". Each of these sixty-one young women can now say, "I am a nurse".

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my profession. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and I will devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

Life, the Educator

Wherever you go,
Wherever you turn,
There is something to be learned;
Life is your teacher
And the world is your school.

Only you can gain the knowledge you seek,
Only you can apply the knowledge you gain;
And only experience can tell you
Whether you will ever reach your goal.

Denise Alexander
